Where Healing and Opportunities Happen

Here's how your kindness and generosity are making a difference...

JUVENILE JAIL & PRISON MINISTRY

Greenville County Juvenile Detention Facility (GCJDF) Christmas Breakfast

Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) Columbia Christmas Luncheon

As you can see in these wonderful photo montages, WHOH's ministries at the Department of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) and the Greenville County Juvenile Detention Facility (GCJDF) continue to be fertile soil for sharing God's word and relevant teaching. We ended the year celebrating the birth of Jesus with a Christmas breakfast at GCJDF and a luncheon at DJJ in Columbia. God has blessed us with like ministries which helped make both of these events a success. We told them what we wanted to do for the Christmas parties and they said "How can we help!" The kids received pajamas, shoes, games, journals, word finds books, chap stick, hygiene products, socks, candy and a lot of delicious food! Thank you Lord for this collaborative effort!

HOME MINISTRY

The newly-renovated attic room at the home of Beverly and Mark Caligaris is furnished, ready and occupied! We have our first opportunity of helping an “unaccompanied youth” (defined as a youth who receives no parental or governmental support) to develop a plan to become a productive citizen. When we met her in July, she was living in an upstairs apartment in a warehouse building in the Donaldson Center. While we waited five months for the Department of Social Services (DSS) to give us the okay on her background check, your contributions paid for her driver’s training course. We are happy to report that she got her license! We also assisted her in getting into the Goodwill Job Connection program. Through that program, she received her GED, on-the-job training and educational assistance. They’re sponsoring her tuition for Medical Coding at Greenville Tech starting January 2018! At home, we’re building a trusting family relationship, which is tough at age 19 when you’ve had to do most everything on your own. We’re also working on life and independent living skills and teaching her how to take care of her car. We’re blessed to participate with Jesus in the restoration of this young lady. Please continue to pray for our family, as the Lord continues to expand our borders.
